

Calvary

He died on a cross at Calvary
Liberating each sinner from slavery
There's no other deed that could ever compare
An act of pure love in a world of despair

Yet, where is Calvary? but in the heart
For those whom God had set apart
Sin has been punished, a ransom paid
Where the ultimate sacrifice was made

Yet who is this man? who loved us so much
Rejected by many, yet perceived by His touch
Jesus the Saviour who laid down His life
As the world lay in conflict, hatred and strife

God left us His Son, so as not to forget
To free His people from the fear of death
He suffered the penalty, because of their sin
To save them from guilt and darkness within

There's a message of hope, nailed on the cross
Amidst chaos, confusion and impure dross
Yet Christ is triumphant when He drew His last breath
Winning the victory and conquering death

Now, there's a definite gateway that you can go through
For whoever repents, the door's open to you
A life that's eternal, for you to receive
For no one will perish, for those who believe

So don't put off tomorrow, what you can do today
For He is the life, the truth and the way
Through faith you can, be with him in glory
When you seek and believe in the true Easter story.

Irene Talman 2019