

Love comes along in an extraordinary way
When you meet someone special on that very first day
An affectionate kiss from the one which you love
Sets your heart all a twinkle, like the stars up above.

Love is a most remarkable thing
It makes your heart flutter, and your voice want to sing
It's what musicians and poets write about best
Expressing their feelings, in words with such zest.

There are different kinds of love you'll find:
A bond that binds both Mother and child,
The Love of a sweetheart, so loving and warm,
Or even a friendship beginning to form.

But who can promise a love forever?
Through the turmoils of life, it's such an endeavour.
Someone who'll love you, for whoever you are.
A love that endures, no matter how far.

There is someone special, who gave us his heart.
It was God who loved us, right from the start.
A love that is patient kind and so true
Faithful and righteous, to carry us through.

God sent a Redeemer, Saviour and Friend
To teach, and love us, right to the end.
He sent His Son Jesus, to show us the way
So we could have peace, at the end of the day.

The cross established God's love for Mankind
When Jesus died for sinners, who were spiritually blind.
A love beyond all understanding, the ultimate sacrifice paid.
When God gave up his Son, and came to our aid.

Because God loved his people, none will be lost
Jesus paid the price of our sin, at such a high cost.
He took our transgressions, so that we could be free
When He died on that cross at Calvary.

Irene Talman 2011